Because every child should have a safe place to become their best self

Our Impact

"I have grown up going to Camp Newaygo, a camp where girls are taught that they can be anything they want to be. A place where I have become a stronger woman, and realized that I don't have to just grow up and get married. I can do just as much as a man can. This past summer, the Pioneer Banquet theme was 'Celebrating Empowered Women of the Past & Present'. One of the women we celebrated was Hilary Clinton. I feel so blessed that I have been able to grow up with such an amazing group of women at camp, and I know that someday, everyone will be equal, no matter your gender, race, religion, or sexual orientation."

-Jessica Thompson, Camper

Empowering girls and women to see themselves as the leaders they are is what Camp Newaygo has done for the past 90 years.

Help us achieve this mission by giving to camp. You can support our Camp Scholarship fund, General Operations, or the Capital Campaign with an end-of-year gift.

Together we can declare: #ImWithCamp
